Said In Cypress

That we haven't taken the time to put in writing the little odds and ends of interesting (?) information which comes to us and belong only in a column such as this. For instance, just to keep you up-to-date, we should have told you that the tiny chihuahua puppy belonging to Mrs. Ruth Lockman, couldn't make the grade and finally passed into the great animal beyond. Now, we understand, it is a litter of Siamese kittens which is claiming her attention.

That our family is in the process of moving to a new home and office. This means untold inconvenience, and plans to house Em, En, Stet, Pica, Agate, Hed, Cap, Nonpareil, 6-point and Italics in the new location. Not to mention Heidi, Willy, Trina, Lena and Mina. However, the chickens are about ready for the frying pan, and the pups will go to their new owners this week, not without some regrets, you may be sure.

That we always promised the Montgomery boys we'd attend their drive-in theater for a "first." We finally made it, and think drive-ins are an extremely unique but sensible invention for theater-goers.

That in case you think all roads in California lead somewhere—let us warn you about one we know about. After riding through Silverado canyon past the little resort village of Shady Brook, don't be misled. You'll only have to come back the same way—which is not a too unhappy experience, even in a pouring down rain with dark-

Committee Meets To Form Council

An organization to function quickly in case of an emergency or disaster is being planned for this community. Powers of the group will include the authority to advance a small amount of cash to a needy person or family to tide them over a 24 hour period without waiting for action by the entire committee.

Because of the several disasters which have occurred locally during the past few weeks, a strong need for such a body was felt by members of the Cypress Chamber of Commerce which first sponsored the idea. To be known as the "Cypress Community Coordinating council," an initial meeting was held last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Broadbelt, 5561 Vonnies Lane. Representatives chosen by members of clubs and fraternal organizations selected H. J. G. "Happy" Kreissler as their temporary chairman. Mrs. Broadbelt was chosen secretary-treasurer and C. R. Rogers was appointed to work with Broadbelt on a set of by-laws. Another meeting is planned, probably in June, to establish a permanent organization.

That another sure sign of summer and the tourist season is apparent at Loyd's drive-in. Traffic is heavy enough even now to warrant a 24-hour service on Friday and Saturday nights.

Nurse's Car Catches Fire

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the interior of Mrs. Margaret Jensen's Chevrolet business coupe at her home, 8512 La Homa St. Following a business trip to Anaheim, the car had been driven into the garage by Mrs. Jensen and her niece, Miss Anastacia O'Keefe. The latter had joined a group of friends for an afternoon at the beach, and Mrs. Jensen was preparing a pot of coffee for her lunch in the kitchen of her home which overlooks the backyard. She happened to glance out of the window to behold the blazing inferno inside the car.

Mrs. Jensen ran into the yard calling for help. Her screams attracted two painters working for Mary Louise Ratliff across the street at 5581 Crescent. While Birt Hayes and Harry B. Davee used their strength to roll the machine from the garage, Mrs. Jensen connected the garden hose. It is felt that this quick-thinking on the part of the three probably saved the garage from catching on fire. The car had just been serviced and contained a tankful of gasoline.

In the meantime, the Cypress volunteer fire department was on its way in answer to Mrs. Jensen's call to the telephone operator. Somehow or other the operator gave the information to go to 8542 Walker St. A surprised group of neighbors knew of no blaze in this vicinity, and some time was lost in reaching the scene.

Mrs. Jensen, who is a nurse at Orange county hospital, said that damage to the auto was fully covered by insurance. She opined the delay in having to wait for repairs, however, since she and Miss O'Keefe had planned a three-day trip to the desert next weekend during a hard-earned days' off period. It is not known how the fire, which apparently smoldered for some time in the rear seat cushions, could have started. Conjecture is that a cigarette from a passing vehicle may have been flicked into the car unbeknownst to the occupants.

P-T.A. Installs Officers—Has Father's Night

New officers were installed at last Thursday evening's P.T.A. meeting. Elected at the previous month's meeting, Mrs. Howard Decker accepted the president's responsibilities from the outgoing officer, Mrs. John Lukens.

Other officers inducted during a ceremony which Mrs. Melvin Callahan conducted were Mrs. Murel Bouse, vice president; Mrs. Harry Smit, secretary; Mrs. Louis Wlaschin, treasurer; Mrs. Virgil Webster, historian; Mrs. Clarence Fender, parliamentarian and Mrs. George Alleman, auditor.

Each officer was presented with a gardenia corsage by Mrs. Ivan Mahaffie.

Introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Leslie Brannan, Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana announced the theme of his talk, "Don't Let George Do It." Especially appropriate on Father's night, when a representative groups of parents were present, the talk dwelled on the responsibility of parents to the child in providing companionship and activities through the home. Judge Morrison mentioned

Public Schools Week Features Grad Class Play

At Thursday evening's meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, school superintendent, extended an invitation to the public to visit the local school some time during the next week.

In recognition of the 31st state-wide annual public schools week, the classrooms will be open and special displays of the students' handiwork will be featured. Parents and friends are invited to visit during this week, April 24 to April 29.

Miss Dickerson suggests that parents call the school, Anaheim 2653, if there is any question as to the classes being in session at the time of the visit. Due to the building program and classes being run on a staggered program, and the primary grades meeting state requirements to be out once each hour, parents may wish to check to be sure they would visit during a class period.

Children in primary grades have a milk and refreshment period at 10:30 a.m. In the afternoon, primary classes follow the same hourly schedule, with a 2:30 refreshment period. Classes beginning at 8:20 a.m. in the primary grades run until 12. Kindergarten, first, second and third grades and upper classes are from 8:30 to 2:30 with fourth, fifth and Mrs. Arnold's sixth grades having lunch from 11:30 to 12:30. Mrs. Lissner's fifth with seventh and eighth grades have lunch from 12 to 1 p.m. Each class has a physical education period which necessitates being out on the grounds every hour from 9:30 o'clock, practically all through the day.

The eighth grade play will be presented on Thursday evening, April 27, in the school auditorium at eight p.m. to highlight the school's observance of public school week.

A mystery comedy, "The Black Widow," it is expected that the cast will provide the public with an opportunity to witness a real production. Tickets are on sale for 25c for children and 35c for adults. Money will be used by the eighth graders to help finance their annual graduation trip.

APPEAL TO PARENTS FROM POST OFFICE

Mrs. Ruth Pugh, postmaster, is asking a favor of parents. She requests that a note be sent with a small child who is asked to bring home the mail, or that he is given the key to the post office box.

In too many instances the children are simply taking it upon themselves to "get the mail" without their parents' knowledge or consent, Mrs. Pugh said. Consequently, some of the letters are being mislaid and lost before they reach home.

The postal authorities will be glad to cooperate, but wish to be sure the request was authorized from home. If the child has a note or the key, that will be authority enough.

David Thomas can thank five-year-old "Sandy" De Polter and a chain of fortunate circumstances which prevented a tragic ending to a game of cowboys and Indians last Saturday morning.

Playing around the big pepper tree in the yard of the De Polter home, the eight-year-old second grader was about to demonstrate a spectacular capture to his playmates when he fell seven feet and the noose at the end of the rope caught the unsuspecting victim around the neck, leaving him dangling.

Little "Sandy," sensing the seriousness of the situation, ran to the house calling to her daddy that David was hanging from the tree. The father, Jack De Polter, was able to reach the lad quickly enough to cut him down and apply immediate artificial respiration. The telephone operator was reached without trouble, and a doctor, ambulance and the fire truck from West Anaheim station with a supply of oxygen arrived in record time.

Rushed to Anaheim Community hospital, David remained in a critical condition for several hours. Following hourly injections of oxygen and a good night's rest, he was released to his home Sunday morning. Most serious consequences were a severe neck burn from the rope.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, owners and operators of the Triangle Drive-in. "Sandy" and Carolyn De Polter, playing with David at the time of the accident, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack De Polter, who live across the street. Also playing with the group was David Yeager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Yeager, who are neighbors to the De Polters.

David "Hop-a-long" Thomas will return to his class at school next Monday. In the meantime, classmates sent letters of sympathy and his mother bought him a set of "H.A.L." Cassidy spurs. To him, recuperation is sweet. Because of his youth, he will probably never fully realize the seriousness of his brush with death.

C-Ina-Car Has Benefit Night

Tuesday night will be Benefit night at the C-Ina-Car drive-in theatre one mile east of Cypress. The proceeds will go to the Cypress and Artesia posts to be used as they please.

Indications are that the Cypress post will use the money to boost its building fund which will eventually provide a much-needed club house for organizations to meet in Cypress.

Movie for the benefit will be a favorite of veterans, "Sergeant York," the story of the famous hill-billy machine gunner in the first world war, starring Gary Cooper and Joan Leslie. Second feature will be the comedy "Hazard," starring Paulette Goddard and MacDonald Carey.

In announcing the VFW night at the C-Ina-Car theatre, co-owner William Montgomery said that the regular prices would prevail, fifty cents for adults including tax, and all children under 12 are admitted free. The public is invited to attend.

I RISE TO REMARK

by John Phillips

It is a sobering and frightening experience to examine America's foreign policy carefully, realistically and objectively. To get the full impact you must realize that since 1945 the United States has been engaged—or so we have been told—in a "cold war" with Russia, in which unrewarding effort we have actually spent billions of dollars with the object of preventing Russia from expanding octopus-like power over all Asia and Europe.

Expanded

Reflect a minute on the success of our effort.

During the last four years the Russians and the international communists under their domination, have expanded their control easily and freely over all of eastern Europe. In Germany, Russia needs only to overcome mediocre allied and Germanic resistance to push her sphere of influence — like the shadow of death—to the French border; beyond if she wishes.

During the last year, Russia has taken control of China while the United States officially waited for the "dust to settle," a phrase created by Dean Acheson himself shortly after taking office as Secretary of State, and used in a conference with a group of Congressmen, including the writer, who had demanded an explanation of his China policy. Russia now commands the unbelievably vast continent of Asia, from sea to sea, and can consolidate, with little trouble, India, Burma, and the Malay peninsula.

Billion People

A billion people (seven times the population of the United States) are under communist control. The greatest land mass on the globe is under the hammer and sickle banner. So are the world's major natural resources. Only in technologic skill do the western nations dominate but, as evidenced by the Russian production of atomic weapons, it may be but a short time until even our productive superiority is equalled or eclipsed.

To realize that the balance of power has shifted from the west to the east in these few post-war years is sobering and frightening, and it is humiliating to realize that Russia has used our cold war and our woeful lack of realism to help her win without bloodshed three-quarters of the world pie.

You and I and all Americans have a right to ask: "How did we ever get into such a mess?"

Sold Out

If we have been sold out, who is responsible? The Congress can find out. In fact, a subcommittee is investigating the State Department now, and you and I are shocked by what is being revealed.

The State Department's growth and power exceeds any bounds envisioned by the Congress 10 years ago. It will spend and control a large slice of the entire United States budget. It actually has something to say over the spending of almost half the budget—or some $20 billion. Under its hand are foreign trade and commerce, occupation policies, foreign loans, the so-called Marshall plan, all United Nations activities, various agricultural projects, some tariffs, and the activities of scores of agencies and bureaus.

Power

This tremendous power theoretically has been directed against Russian interests. Why then have we suffered so many disasters? Why is our standing in the world, once the highest, now at its lowest ebb? Why have we handed the Far East to Russia—thereby giving the red-dictatorship the fruits of victories won with American blood? Why does the State Department insist upon pouring unlimited treasure into the Soviet funnel?

These are some of the questions which in the name of all freedom-loving humanity must be asked, and should have been asked long ago!

President

It is most strange that the President of the United States should object to such an investigation. It is strange that the Secretary of State should rise to defend communists in his shop. It is strange that we have apparently helped Russia gain all her objectives, the while prattling about a cold war, wasting our energy and substance, in many cases to the aid and comfort of the enemy.

That our State Department has been stupid or culpable, is an inescapable conclusion. It is, in my opinion, the duty of the President to clean house. Even at this late date much damage could be repaired and our world position salvaged and strengthened.

I rise to hope that the present investigation will bring about that housecleaning — either by forcing the President into action, or giving encouragement and support to the group in Congress which has the old-fashioned guts—but not the numbers—to force the housecleaning.

DRILL TEST WELLS TO DETERMINE EXTENT OF SALT WATER

Exploratory drilling of test wells, to ascertain the extent of salt water intrusion into the Orange county underground basin, is now in progress at several points under the project jointly conducted by the U.S. Geological Survey, the Orange County Water district and the Orange Flood Control department.

Flood Control Engineer Jack Bradley reported that a second well is being drilled by the Keeler Drilling Co., Long Beach, which will put down several 4-inch wells. The flood control district also will sink several small-ers wells, to obtain supplementary data.

The salt water intrusion, which began several years ago when fresh water levels of the basin dropped alarmingly, so that there was no pressure against the salt water's advance, is known to have reached almost a mile and a half inward from the coast, through Santa Ana gap, between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach.

Importing of 12,000 acre feet of Colorado river water by the water district last summer, raised water levels 17 feet in the basin, tests showed in December. More water will be purchased by the district this coming summer.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART,

Orange County Press Bureau

A pretty fair picture of Orange county development and where it is centering comes out of the statistics on new buildings, just issued by County Assessor Maurice F. Enderle.

There were 4,752 new buildings erected in the county from March, 1949, to March, 1950. During the same period there were, in addition, 4,805 major remodeling projects, according to the assessor's figures.

Outside of Santa Ana, which naturally outstripped the rest of the county, with a total of 1,044 in the city and school district (941 in the city) the figures contain a surprise or two.

However, while it might be expected that the larger incorporated cities of the county would rank next to Santa Ana, as in the past, it may not be too surprising to learn that the heaviest building during the past year, in point of numbers, centers at Garden Grove, where 434 buildings were erected.

The tremendous residential development in progress there could scarcely escape notice, as new subdivisions sprouted on every point of the compass. And Enderle's figures deal only with numbers of buildings, not their aggregate value. The larger cities might show higher building output in the form of business blocks, industrial plants and apartment buildings, although that is merely a guess. There was no breakdown in the assessor's data, as to type of buildings.

Perhaps another surprise is to find Anaheim ninth down the list of county communities, and Fullerton only sixth. For all her progressive spirit, as indicated by fine parks and a top-flight baseball plant, Anaheim was out-built by such communities as La Habra, Costa Mesa, Garden Grove, Laguna Beach and Orange, not to mention Santa Ana, Newport Beach and Fullerton. And Fullerton was out-built by these same communities, excepting Orange, which was next to Fullerton, and Laguna Beach. Anaheim had rather a small edge over Westminster, San Clemente and Buena Park.

In third position in the county, following Santa Ana and Garden Grove, was Newport Beach school district, with 388 buildings, of which 375 are within the City of Newport Beach. Showing the harbor area's rapid strides, Costa Mesa school district is close on the heels of its next-door neighbor, with 359 buildings.

La Habra school district leads northern Orange county with 307 buildings, of which 290 are within the city of La Habra. Then comes Fullerton, with 302 buildings for the city and school district, 293 being within the city.

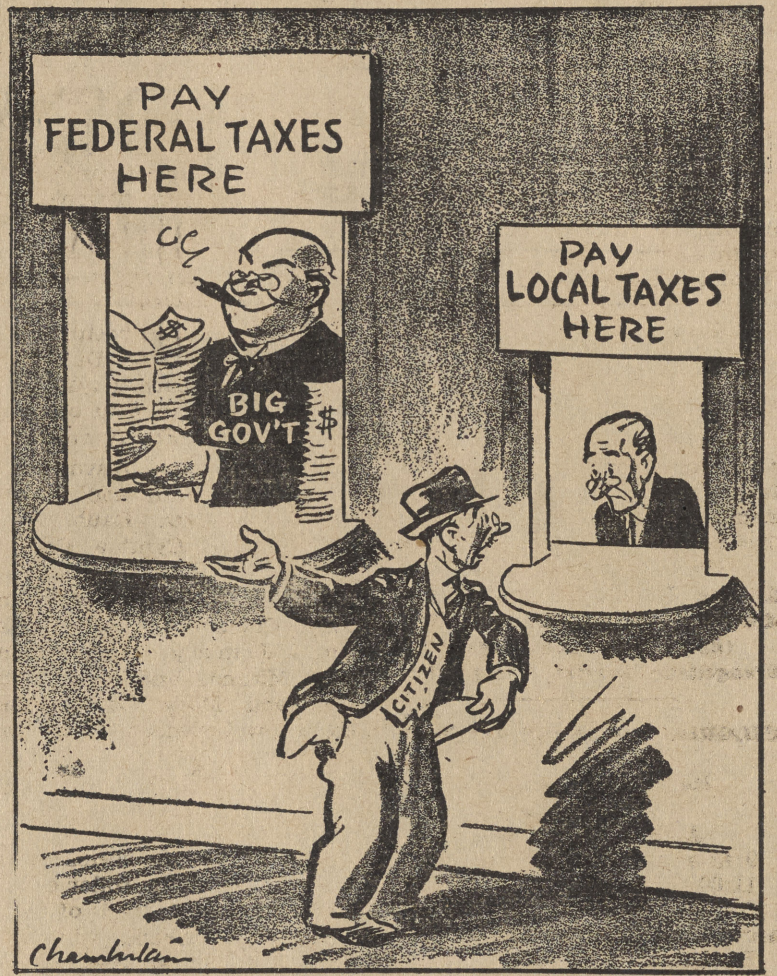

Orange school district ranks next with 235 buildings, of which 222 are inside of the Orange corporate limits. Orange building took a sharp upswing in the latter part of the period, which may augur a higher rank for the following year.

Laguna Beach school district had 221 buildings, with 103 in the city and 118 in South Laguna, Emerald Bay and other fringe communities. Anaheim came next with 203 buildings, 197 being within the city.

Following were Westminster with 132, San Clemente, 129, Buena Park, 124, and Huntington Beach 101, of which 77 were within the city of Huntington Beach.

No other community reached 100 buildings. Tustin had 67 (60 within the city), Seal Beach 66 (61 within the city), Capistrano Beach 58, Placentia 54 (29 within the city), Yorba Linda 30. The rest were widely scattered among remaining areas. San Juan Capistrano, for example, had but eight buildings in the year.

"HE TOOK IT ALL!"

Just how fast the county as a whole is going ahead with building is shown by a comparison of 1945 and 1950 figures. In 1945 there were a total of 57,246 buildings on the assessment roll. In the intervening five years there has been an increase of nearly 50 per cent, with 28,260 new buildings added, making a total this year of 85,506 on the assessment roll.

Well, there's the picture of current building trends. If it keeps up there may be a surprise or two in the impending census.

103 FROM COUNTY TO ATTEND REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

One hundred and three delegates from Orange county will join a parade of California Republicans tomorrow as they head for their party's state convention at Fresno, Roscoe G. Hewitt chairman of the Orange county Republican Central committee, said today.

Hewitt said that the convention was called to give Republican party leaders throughout the state an opportunity to see and hear all of the Republican candidates for a major political office.

'Chit-Chat from The Teeners'

By Gloria McKinzie

Everybody in the seventh and eighth grade crowd looked a mess a week ago last Friday afternoon when after Susan Zwart put grass in Mike Troop's ice cream. It seems they tossed it back and forth between them and got everyone watching in a mess including themselves.

Walter Beuck has been seeing quite a lot of Harriet Davidson. Those Seal Beach guys were very uncooperative with our Cypress Lo-teeners Friday night.

Bonnie Arant and Wayde Martin, Rosetta Smith and Narcie Ferreira, Roberta Raub and Henry Mason, Cynthia Collom and Mike Troop, Harriet Davidson, Walter Beuck, Junior Dean, Buddy Chambers, Sam Lindeboom, Jimmy McLaughlin, Elaine Miranda and Kaker Van Dyke, and Mary Lou Hoxsie were a few Lo-teeners who went on the beach party held at Seal Beach Friday night.

Tom, Vance, Tommy, Ralph and Johnny had fun on the Pike Saturday night. It seems Tom chickened out on the roller coaster! Why, Tom? It's loads of fun?

Verda Van Buskirk and Joyce Taylor had fun at Seal Beach Sunday.

Last Saturday commemorated the fifteenth birthday of Pauline Houghton. Happy birthday, Pauline!

Sue McLaughlin and Mary Miranda were seen coming home from Bellflower with Byron Crockstead and Martin Bouma a week ago last Tuesday.

Gail Rathbun, Red Schneider and Kenny Rathbun enjoyed fishing Saturday at Long Beach.

Jim Hoxsie, Warner Gedney, Neal Collins, Bob Van Dyke, Chuck Bell, and Louie Stephens enjoyed a day at Seal Beach Sunday.

What's this we hear about Neal Collins taking Lolly Slabaugh to Dee Cardin's party Saturday night? Mutt and Jeff!!

Who were all the blind dates over the weekend?

What is this we hear about the unorganized Cypress boys beating the reorganized girls' team? Why? And at 11-1 too, shame on you girls!

Rosemary Johnson is improving her coiffure these days.

The best dressed title goes to Peggy Flynn and Russell Noe this week. Also the people with the extra neat personalities are Werner Gedney and Lolly Slabaugh.

Kay, Peg and Rosemary enjoyed a spaghetti dinner at the school Wednesday night.

Norma Bounds and Norman Duncan, Duane Duncan and Shirlee Boudreau, Johnny Andre and Betty Lantz, Louie Stephens and Betty Murphy, Neal Collins and Lolly Slabaugh, Dee Cardin and Frank Ferreira, Raymond Precie and Ruth Thomason, Dick Gulman and Carol Dewell, Delores Slabaugh and Harry Sexton, Pat Dewell and Johnny Jakes, Alberta and Danny Jakes, and Warner Gedney. These people were the ones attending the party given by Delores Cardin Saturday night. Everyone had a good time and there was riding through Bellflower afterwards.

A wedding shower was given to Carol Dewell Friday at the home of her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Gulman. Those attending were friends and relatives.

Bruce Perrine has been watching Elaine Miranda pretty close lately.

On his visits around with former acquaintances, he is often accompanied by his one-time school chum, Lawrence Arbiso. Gino has a 10-day leave from his air force base at Savannah, Georgia. He is a radio operator on a B-29.

SMALL GIRL VISITS GREAT GRANDMOTHER

Mrs. Clyde Thompson and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kurtz, made a whirlwind motor trip to Benson, Arizona, last weekend in order that ten-months-old Nanette Kurtz could be seen by her great grandmother, Mrs. M. Mrs. Thompson's son, Bobby, also made the trip.

Mrs. Bertha Kingsley of Eugene, Oregon is visiting her sister, Mrs. Betty McCold and nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller. Her vacation continues through 10 days.

Wow! Carolyn that sure was a neat home run you hit in the first inning.

Duane Duncan sure made use of himself at the girls' game Monday night. He was umpire and made a good one, too.

The Cypress Devilettes were defeated 11-1 by the Hawaiian Gardens team Saturday night. The girls played a good game even if they did lose.

Towns like Randsburg, Johannesburg and Calico were rip-roaring mining camps in their heyday. Although most of the glory of the mining days has vanished, many remnants of the golden past are still in evidence and may be observed from the highway as one takes this interesting tour through a portion of the Mojave Desert.

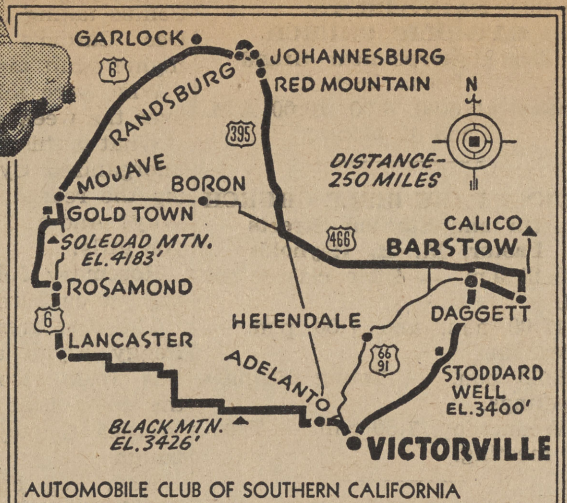

● Victorville is a curious blend of the present and past, as much of its colorful flavor inherited from the days when it was a lusty mining town is still apparent. Nowadays, however, local promoters refer to the area as the dude-ranch capital of the world . . .

● Barstow, which since has cast off its frontier aspects, was an important gold and silver mining center in the 1880's when the present ghost town of Calico was flourishing. The latter town, perched high in the blazingly colored Calico Mountains, was a large silver-mining settlement that died suddenly when the decline in silver prices closed the mine . . .

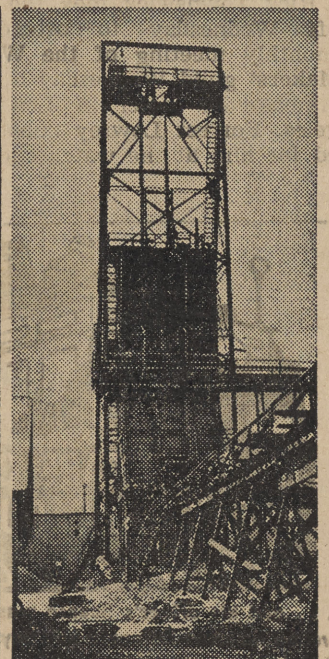

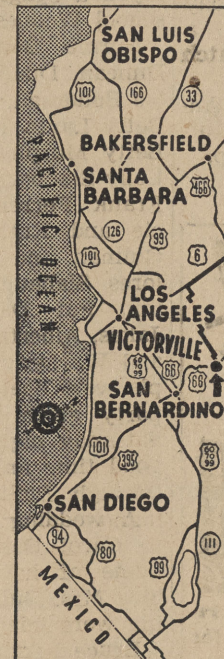

● Approaching the Randsburg-Johannesburg area, one may see several reminders of the golden past such as the old ore wagon and sluice box shown in top photo and the tumble-down prospector's shack in center photo. Gold was first discovered here in 1895 at Goler Wash and the famous Yellow Aster mine proved to be the richest producer, yielding more than $10,000,000 in gold. Mines in this area

AUTO CLUB'S TRIP OF THE WEEK

remained fairly active until 1942 with gold, silver, tungsten being produced in moderate quantities . . .

● Lower photo shows portion of the famed Big Kelley Mine near Red Mountain which has produced more than $60,000,000 in silver since 1919. The town of Red Mountain, with its colorful cafes is still the social headquarters of the area . . .

● Other old mining camps were at Gold Town, Mojave and Rosamond. Some of these old mines, particularly around Gold Town, are still active with eager prospectors ever hopeful of someday making another rich strike.

On the communicable disease report for the two week period ending April 8, Orange county health department reported 13 cases of whooping cough, 76 of chickenpox and 74 of mumps, among others.

Pacific Telephone Proposes Rate Increase, Extended Service Here

In the application of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company to the California Public Utilities commission for increases and adjustments in certain telephone rates throughout the state was also a proposal for the introduction of extended service in Orange county.

In reference to the application for adjustments in rates the following statement was made:

"The number of telephones in service in California has more than kept pace with the last 10 years' 54 per cent population growth, but this accomplishment also produced grave financial problems. Our rate application is a necessity, in order that the company may soundly raise the millions it needs for the growing communication needs of the people of California. State-wide rates applied for amount to about $1,500,000 a month increase to the company after taxes and $2,500,000 before corporate taxes.

"The background for our application includes the fact that expenses for employees of Pacific Telephone are $100,000,000 more than they would be under 1939 wages and practices — one-third more than all rate increases. Due largely to inflation, the plant and equipment behind each new telephone added since the war cost $400 as compared to an average of $250 prior to that time. The money for expansion and improvement of telephone plant to meet the needs of this vast growing state must come from investors. Investors will put their savings in our business only if the savings are reasonably safe and produce a reasonable earning.

In describing the changes proposed to become effective here, R. J. Rossberg, manager of the company stated:

"The application presented to the commission proposes the introduction of extended service in Orange County exchanges in accordance with the public's demand for a broader type of toll-free service. In general, the rates throughout Orange county are no higher, and in some instances, are less than those which telephone representatives previously explained."

Examples of basic monthly charges for the new extended service for Cypress are as follows:

Business Extended Service
Individual Flat Rate.....	$12.50
Individual Message Rate.....	5.50
Two-party Flat Rate.....	8.75
Residence Extended Service
Individual Flat Rate.....	5.00
Two-party Flat Rate.....	4.00
Four-party Flat Rate.....	3.25

The proposal presented to the commission also asks for an increase in the coin-box telephone rate for local messages from five to ten cents.

CLARENCE NORLAND
SURPRISED; PARTY
AT SON'S HOME

A surprise party for Clarence Norland was successfully planned and carried out Saturday evening in honor of his birthday. Friends were invited to the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Norland in Anaheim. Also honored were Mrs. Clarissa Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norland, and Mrs. M. S. Robins, whose birthdays were also within a day or two of that of the honoree.

After the presents were opened, guests enjoyed games and the television, or just visiting. Birthday cake, ice cream and coffee were served at a late hour.

Present in addition to those mentioned were Mrs. Clarence Norland, M. S. Robins, Mrs. John Preston, Mrs. Lilly Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Norland, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Worrell, North Long Beach.

ROBINSONS RETURN HOME MONDAY NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robinson returned from their motor trip to Missouri Monday night. While in Reger they attended funeral services for Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. A. Seckington.

Before starting westward, they visited their son and family, the E. L. Robinsons, Jr., in Ames, Iowa. En route to the west coast they spent one night in Lamar, Colorado, in the home of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ed Robinson's parents.

Nothing but bad weather was encountered during their stay in the midwest. They report wind, rain, sleet and snow, which made traveling miserable.

JUDY FRISBEE
HAS PARTY

Little Judy Frisbee was given a birthday party by her parents last Saturday afternoon in their home at 5416 Bishop St.

Judy's mother served birthday cake, ice cream, and two kinds of candies. Little guests were given basket favors. Judy received appropriate gifts from her guests in honor of the occasion.

Present to share in the festivities were her brother Jimmy and sister Barbara, Charlee Arnold, Margie Earhart, Leland Miller, Catherine Clark and Helen Plantinga.

VFW AUXILIARY

GAINS TWO MEMBERS

Two new members were initiated by the auxiliary to Cypress VFW Post No. 9847 when it met last Monday evening. They were Castella Rogers and her sister-in-law, Alene Rogers.

The latter was appointed to represent the organization on the emergency board being organized by the chamber of commerce. A sum of money was voted to be given each month toward the treasury of this coordinating council.

Refreshments of cake, coffee and tea were served during the social interval. The committee in charge was Frances Demiris and Beatrice Hahn.

SNOW CHANGES
TRIP PLANS

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Greenwade and three-year-old daughter Anita, 8789 Moody St., started north on a vacation-motor trip. Enroute they stopped in Chico with her parents, and left Anita while the couple headed for Oregon.

At Weed, traffic was stopped for two hours atop Mount Shasta until the storm closed road could be cleared, forcing Mr. and Mrs. Greenwade to return to Chico.

The vacation was interrupted but not ruined. The family headed south for Brawley and a two-day visit with his parents. Fishing was enjoyed at Laguna dam on the Colorado river, and a trip to Mexicali rounded out the tour.

Greenwade is employed at General Mills, Inc., in Maywood.

MEMBERS MEET

TO ORGANIZE

LODGE HERE

Jack Junker was host to Henry Mang, past grand patriarch and August Fitz, district deputy grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows last Friday evening. Local men present signifying their desire to help form a chapter of this organization in Cypress were Karl Beason, Basil Coffman, "Pat" Arnold, Lewis Cleveland, Elmer Corby, John Thomas and Vic Konig.

An election of officers resulted in A. E. "Pat" Arnold's being chosen president; Jack Junker, secretary and Elmer Corby, treasurer.

Until such time as the organization is established, a name for the group was chosen. They prefer to be called "The Dizzy Drones."

Mmes. Lura Coffman, Ethel Cleveland, Myrl Appleby and Evie Junker served refreshments at the close of the meeting. Another session is planned for Friday night, April 28, in the Junker home, 4871 Grace St.

BUSY BEE CLUB

CYPRESS BALL PLAYERS COMPETE ALL OVER

With the summer softball season coming on, Cypress ball players might be found just about anywhere in the vicinity playing with various teams.

Whitey Wilson and Salty Falls, for instance, spend much of their spare time playing for the Western Gear team in Lynwood, besides their regular games with the local Merchants.

Last week at Buena Park, Eddie Arbisio and Johnny Borgess hit the only triples for the Buena Park Wolves in their win over the La Habra Red Devils.

specifically the good that the recreation park being planned for Cypress could do with a supervised play schedule. As the title of his speech indicated, he implored parents to help with their children's recreation problems and not leave it to someone else to watch out for them. It costs the county over $1,000 to send a boy or girl through juvenile court, he explained.

Mrs. Murel Bouse volunteered to serve on the Cypress Recreation Park Board, Inc. She replaces Mrs. Logan Wallace whose term expired. Richard V. Hathcock is the other P.T.A. member.

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson announced that the film, "March of the Wooden Soldiers" was available to be shown at the special treat day which will replace the school picnic this year. No objections were voiced to the presentation of this Laurel and Hardy picture.

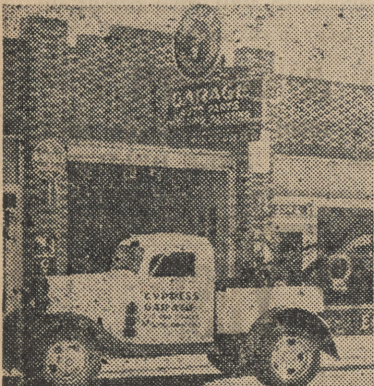

Sixth grade fathers served refreshments of cake and coffee during the social hour which followed the meeting in honor of Father's night.

Carolyn Head Homers in First Tilt As Cypress Devilettes Lose 18-2

Even though Carolyn Head slapped out a home run in the first inning to give the Cypress Devilettes first blood in their initial softball game, the local girls dropped the tilt to Hawaiian Gardens 18 to 2.

It was a tight ball game until the fourth inning, when the opposition got their first bevy of runs.

Cypress scored on Head's homer, then boosted the count to 2 to 0 when Catalina Boeckler drove Marge Hall home. Cypress held that lead until the third when Hawaiian Gardens garnered three runs and the lead that they never relinquished.

Coach W. C. Miller used all the squad members in order to give them all practice in competition.

Greenwade Is Captain

At an election held Sunday, Darlene Greenwade was elected captain of the Devilettes for the 1950 season. Delores Cardin was last year's captain.

Harmon Will Not Announce Lynx Games

Since he has accepted the appointment of Sports Director for CBS, Tom Harmon will not announce the Buena Park Lynx softball games, which are to be televised from Buena Park and Fullerton this summer. This information was sent to Marion (Shorty) Hill, manager of the famous girls' softball team.

In Harmon's place at the mike will be a veteran KFI sportscaster, Lyle Bond, who is well-known to Southern California's sports fans.

Candidate Nixon On Tour April 28

A full-day schedule of 10 stops, including breakfast in Laguna Beach, luncheon in Santa Ana and dinner in Anaheim, was arranged today for Congressman Richard Nixon when he visits Orange county on April 28 in connection with his bid for the U. S. Senate.

The Whittier district Congressman, born in Yorba Linda and educated there, is bidding for the Senate election from California after a brilliant career in the House of Representatives.

Nixon is on a state-wide get-acquainted tour, but this will be more in the nature of a homecoming for a native son.

First engagement, breakfast at Laguna, is at 8:30 a.m., and then he will be in Newport Beach at 10:20 a.m., in Costa Mesa at 11 a.m., in Huntington Beach at 11:40 a.m.

Nixon's caravan heads for Santa Ana, for noonday luncheon at Masonic Temple. At 2:30 p.m., he will visit Orange; his schedule puts him in Garden Grove at 3:15 p.m., at Buena Park at 4 p.m., in Fullerton at 4:45 p.m., and then he will be guest at 7 p.m. dinner in Anaheim.

Merchants Hit Four Homers in First Victory

Blanking George's cafe from Norwalk Manor in their first softball game of the season, the Cypress Merchants rapped out four home runs as they clipped their opponents 10 to 0.

Showing the power they displayed in winning the Norwalk softball league championship last year, the Merchants started right off in the first stanza when Manager Dick Hathcock came up with the bases loaded, then poled a four bagger to put the home team out in front 4 to 0.

Pitcher and first baseman Eddie Arbisio waited until the next inning to collect his homer with two men on. Dick Gulman hit a round tripper with no mates on in the fourth, making the count 8 to 0.

Joe Ferreira, newcomer to the Merchants this year, slapped out the last homer in the fifth and brought one run in, and the score went to 10 to 0 where it remained for the rest of the regulation seven innings. Being a practice game, the two teams played a few more innings unofficially.

MERCHANTS HAVE THREE SOFTBALL GAMES ON TAP

Tonight the Cypress Merchants will travel to Norwalk to get their first taste of league competition as they meet the newly organized Norwalk Coast Grain outfit at the Norwalk Recreation park. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Coast Grain was one of the toughest competitors in the Norwalk league last year, which the Merchants won, and will be much better this year due to the acquisition of several stars from the disbanded All-American market of Downey. All-American lost the championship playoffs to the Cypress team.

Among the players picked up from All-American was a man Cypress fans learned to fear in the 1949 campaign, pitcher Bill Spinks.

American Legion Here

Tuesday night local fans will be able to see the Merchants in action against the Sunshine Acres American Legion team, whose home grounds are between Norwalk and Whittier. Next week the Friday meeting will be against Hawaiian Gardens here.

League play will start at Norwalk the week of May 8, and tentative plans are underway for a game to be played as a part of Norwalk's big celebration on May 15. There is a probability that Cypress will be asked to play in that affair.

John K. Colwell Candidate for District Attorney

John K. Colwell, former deputy district attorney and now city attorney of Santa Ana, today made formal announcement of his candidacy for election as Orange County's district attorney at the June 6 primary.

In so doing, he pledged that he is not obligated to any group or individual. His election, he reminded, would carry "no ties of any kind with one exception—that will be to the people of Orange County, payable in sincere, modern law enforcement tempered with sound judgment, integrity and experience."

At the same time he disclosed that his candidacy has the backing of men and women long prominent in every community and city of the County, and that committees for his election are being formed.

Colwell began practice of law in Santa Ana in 1931, after graduation from University of Michigan's Law School. He was deputy district attorney for almost four years, leaving the post for Navy duty. He served three and one-half years and holds reserve rank as lieutenant commander.

Shortly after his return from Navy duty, he sought election as city attorney of Santa Ana and won his first elective post. He has been the City's chief legal officer for three years.

Long interested in criminal investigation work and law enforcement, Colwell has for years been active in the Orange County Peace Officers' Association. He is one of its legal advisers.—Adv.
